DOUBLEHEADER IS DIVIDED

Salt Lake Loses Morning Game to Oaks 7 to 3 and Comes Back in the Afternoon With Laurels 4 to 2.

The scores: Morning game—Oakland 7, Salt Lake 3. Afternoon game—Salt Lake 4, Oakland 2. The batteries: Morning game—Oakland, Martin and Elliott; Griffith; Salt Lake, Dougan, Warhop, Chabek and Hannah. Afternoon game—Salt Lake, Hall and Hannah; Oakland, Klein, Boyd and Griffith.

There are no games scheduled today; teams traveling.

San Francisco, May 14.—Wasting thirteen hits on the desert air and experimenting further with Eddie Klein, who had previously demonstrated that control was not his shining virtue, cost the Oaks a crack at the series. Klein twirled three runless as well as hitless innings. Then he started on his flight. Before he was yanked he had walked four men, allowed one hit and forced in one run. With the bases full and one out Klein gave way to Ray Boyd, who retired the enemy, thanks to a double play.

Speed Martin Effective. Effective twirling by Speed Martin beat the Salt Lakers in the morning game by the score of 7 to 3. Not a one of the visitors' three tallies was earned.

ANGELS-TIGERS SPLIT HONORS

Los Angeles, May 14.—By winning today's double-header from the Angels, 9 to 4 and 2 to 0, the Tigers jumped into first place in the league, leading the Seals by four points. They performed the feat of climbing from fourth to first in the past week. They also took six out of seven games from the Angels, which itself is more glory for them than leading the league.

This morning's game was a hitting and a rotten fielding affair. The Tigers did the hitting and the Angels the fielding. Both Scoggins and Horstman were hit hard throughout. In the afternoon Zabel and G. Johnson, the Winnebago, fought it out before a capacity house, Zabel losing because of two long drives.

BEAVERS TAKE AFTERNOON GAME

Seals Win Morning Affray 9 to 7 While Beavers Come Out Ahead in Afternoon Game.

Portland, Ore., May 14.—Mark up another victory for the tailenders, the Portland Beavers. Manager Harry Wolverton and his San Francisco Seals tonight are in second place in the Pacific Coast league standing just because the Beavers administered a 4 to 2 whipping to the Bay City chaps at the Vaughn street grounds here this afternoon.

It was some game and the 4500 spectators were treated with enough thrills to hold over until the return of the Portlanders three weeks home. Today's win made the final results of the week's play. San Francisco three contests, Portland two affairs.

TEAMS BREAK EVEN IN OPENING GAMES OF SEASON

After meeting defeat at Brigham City, Saturday, in the opening game of the season, by the Brigham City nine, the Utah Power & Light company's baseball team staged a comeback yesterday afternoon at Glenwood and evened up the score. The score at Brigham City was 3 to 1, the victory of the "Peaches" being largely due to "Cy" Morgan's pitching. Dick Heywood was on the mound for Ogden. Yesterday the score was 12 to 5, with "Brick" Greenwell pitching in mid-season form and pulling the game out of the fire, after Shipley had virtually given the visitors their 5 runs in the fore-part of the first inning.

Despite the unseasonable weather, snow falling on the field at intervals, the local season was opened auspiciously. Mayor A. R. Heywood pitched the first ball and President Jack Browning of the league, scornfully waving aside Catcher Duncan's big glove, missed it. The mayor and league president were roundly applauded when they appeared on the field and the old spirit of state league days prevailed. In the two lineups were "Andy" Jensen, Ramshaw, Wessler, Helme and Greenwell of State league and Union association experience and among the other players were some of the fastest amateurs this section of the state has produced. All in all, the teams appeared capable of putting up the brand of baseball that the local fans like.

Yesterday, however, Brigham played in hard luck. Newton Patten, "Andy" Jensen's first string catcher, breaking his leg above the ankle and Keller spraining his ankle. Patten's unfortunate accident occurred in the fourth inning, when he slid into third base and he was taken immediately to the Dee hospital in an automobile. Keller turned his ankle sliding into second base, in the first inning, and though he continued playing his outfield position, was unable to control his pitching when called in to relieve Lowe.

Duncan, the first string catcher of the "Power" team, received a bad bruise under his right eye, when he collided with Cole in the third inning. These accidents served to slow up the play considerably, but after the first inning and with the exception of the second half of the 7th, when Keller's sore ankle prevented good mound work, the game was full of interest. The work of Vandiver, Wessler and Butterfield on the infield was on the a-1 order and was almost equalled by that of Jeppson, Ramshaw and A. Jensen for Brigham. The pitching of Greenwell, however, was the big feature of the game, though the batting of Vandiver, Duncan, Helme and Wessler, came in for considerable attention.

BEN PETRE, REFEREE FOR CHAMPION MATCH

The two wrestlers permitting their privilege to select a referee to go by default, Ben Petre of Green River, Wyo., was chosen last night by the sport writers of the Ogden Standard and Ogden Examiner to be the third man on the mat tomorrow night, when Pat Brown of Taylor, Texas, and Jack Harbertson of Ogden, Utah, will wrestle for the middleweight championship of the world. The selection of the referee was in accordance with the contract between the wrestlers and the Alhambra theatrical company, promoters of the bout.

Brown had favored Will Thornton of Salt Lake, while Jack Childs, formerly of Ogden, was Harbertson's choice. In considering the question, the local sport writers deemed it advisable, in view of the international importance of the bout and in fairness to both principles, to select a man from outside the state. Petre, their final choice, is a man whose fairness, mindness and authority of the wrestling game, is undoubted and there is no question but that his work in the bout tomorrow night will be satisfactory to both wrestlers and the public.

The big bout will bring Ogden into greater prominence than ever before in the sporting world and, in staging it, the members of the Alhambra Theatre company are credited by outside sport writers with being an enterprising and game bunch of sports. It is estimated that with the guarantee of $1500 to Champion Pat Brown, win, lose or draw, a percentage of the gross receipts to Harbertson, advertising and other expenses, that approximately $3,000 must be taken in at the box office to render the company a profit on the proposition. Though there were plenty of good seats remaining unsold this morning, Manager H. E. Skinner of the Alhambra, is sanguine that the fans of Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and other states will gather in sufficient numbers tomorrow night, to make the venture a financial as well as an athletic success.

Manager Skinner stated today, that he wanted the fans to understand that they were welcome to witness the weighing in of Brown and Harbertson tomorrow at 3 p. m. at the Alhambra. The scales will be tested by the city inspector of weights and measures and the wrestlers must weigh 158 pounds or less to save their forfeit money. Yesterday both men were reported safe on this question, with their normal strength undiminished. The first of the preliminaries, which are to be staged at 8:30 o'clock, will be between Scott and Wallace, the fast lightweight of Ogden, and Base Busenbark of Collinston, who defeated W. J. Lind in seven minutes and has not yet met defeat. Earl Pingree and Louis Apollo of Ogden will be the principals in the second preliminary.

MOST PUZZLING BORDER AFFAIR

Washington, May 14.—Major General Scott, chief of staff of the army, is due here tomorrow with a detailed report of his discussions at El Paso with General Alvaro Obregon, war minister of the de facto government of Mexico. The conference brought no formal or even tentative agreement as to the situation along the border and the status of American troops now in Mexico, but there are indications that General Scott will be able to give Secretary Baker and officials of the state department definite information as to what General Carranza proposes to do toward demonstrating his ability to stop brigandage along the international line.

General Scott's telegraphic report at the conclusion of the conference threw little light on the situation, further than to indicate that the exchange of views with the Mexican war minister had been of a wholly friendly character. Since that time reports of Carranza troop movements have come indicating that the de facto government was taking active steps in the region south of Boquilla and also moving into the territory abandoned by General Pershing's forces as they are down north toward San Antonio, probably the southern base of the expeditionary force for some time to come.

Secretary Lansing expects to have a long conference with General Scott before he prepares to renew the diplomatic discussion of the status of the American expeditionary force with Eliseo Cardonzo, Carranza's ambassador here. General Obregon's views will be fully canvassed and the state department also expects to get some light on whether it was Obregon or Carranza himself who prevented the ratification of the formal agreement worked out by the conferees at their first meetings.

This question has been a puzzling one to officials here. Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City reported that the de facto government had officially announced the success of the border negotiations. This was taken to mean that Carranza had approved the plan. Then came the statement by the conferees themselves that they were unable to reach a definite agreement and had decided to refer the matter back to their respective governments for diplomatic negotiations. While this report was en route to Washington Mr. Arredondo called upon Secretary Lansing to state that his advice from Mexico City indicated that the original agreement had been approved. General Scott is expected to clear up the confusion resulting from this sequence of conflicting accounts.

Mr. Arredondo was still without instructions from General Carranza tonight in regard to steps he may take in seeking to reopen diplomatic consideration of the border situation. In any event, Secretary Lansing would be unwilling to begin the conversations until he has been fully advised by General Scott. It may be late in the week before conversations between the secretary and the ambassador are under way.

The war and state departments received no important advice today as to Mexico. A report from General Pershing said the new concentration order by General Funston at the conclusion of the El Paso conference was proceeding satisfactorily. This was taken to mean that the majority of the scouting parties had been drawn in and material progress had been made in shortening supply lines.

ANGRY PROTESTS OVER EXECUTIONS

Irish in New York Denounce the Shooting of Leaders of Rebellion.

New York, May 14.—W. Bourke Keogh called on President Wilson tonight to protest to Great Britain against the execution of fifteen Irish rebels who have been shot. Three thousand Irishmen and women who were jammed into Carnegie hall in memorial meeting arose, screaming to their feet. For five minutes pandemonium reigned.

It was one of the most tumultuous meetings ever held in the hall. From the moment Victor Herbert, temporary chairman, introduced as permanent chairman Justice Edward J. Gavigan until the meeting was closed, the place was in an uproar.

Bainbridge Colby and the Rev. P. J. Duffy, chaplain of the Sixty-ninth regiment, had stirred the throng to a tempest of patriotic frenzy.

Alfred J. Tully declared the Irish declaration of independence to be the death warrants of its valiant signers. Judge John J. Rooney read a set of resolutions that few could hear because of the applause. And the already well-kindled fire was fanned to a wild flame by Mr. Keogh's impassioned exhortation.

The national anthems of Germany and Austria were cheered to their final notes. "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung with a roar that could be heard two blocks away. Famous Irish melodies were played while the crowd stood.

In the boxes were such prominent friends and children of Irishmen as John McCormack, the tenor; Martin J. Keogh, Seumas MacManus, Mrs. O'Donovan Rossa, who had brought with her the original flag of the Irish republic—orange, white and green; Padraic Collum, the poet; Robert Ford, editor of the Irish World; Dr. Gertrude Kelly, Daniel F. Cohalan, James K. McGuire, Thomas H. Churchill, Judge Tiersman, A. Brendan Ford, Monsignor Francis H. Wall, Rev. John J. Wynne, Dr. Joseph E. M. Egan, Mrs. Newman, sister of Sir Roger Casement; Sheriff Eugene Kincaid, of Jersey City, and J. L. Hackett.

here tonight by Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff of New York before a large gathering of friends of Irish freedom.

The drastic measures taken by England in quashing the revolt, Justice Goff branded as measures to recruit the English army by coercion. He said:

"Persistent efforts have been made by English news agencies to minimize what was really a revolution into an inconsequential street riot. That it was a revolution, and a sanguinary one, is known. Its immediate cause was the goading of the people into desperation so that an apparent justification would be furnished in order to drive the Irish into the English army. It was a revolution, and a sanguinary one, is known. Its immediate cause was the goading of the people into desperation so that an apparent justification would be furnished in order to drive the Irish into the English army. It was a revolution, and a sanguinary one, is known. Its immediate cause was the goading of the people into desperation so that an apparent justification would be furnished in order to drive the Irish into the English army.

"Poor, gentle, scholarly Skeffington, a poet in his soul and a counselor of peace, wrote a few days before his murder that he feared the military would force service on the people. This they are doing.

"However, many failures have strewn the path of Ireland's struggle for freedom. Many more will follow, but the struggle will never end. For every patriot who is shot a thousand more will arise to carry forward the cause for which they have died.

"Where, at Appomattox, Grant chivalrously gave back to Lee his sword and told his battle-weary soldiers to return to their neglected homes, England would have shot him by court-martial, as she has done in Ireland, and would have blown his soldiers from the cannon's mouth, as she has done in India."

Paris, May 14, 2:30 p. m.—French positions near Dead Man hill on the Verdun front were bombarded violently last night, but there was no infantry attack. A German thrust south of Roye was repulsed, the war office statement of this afternoon says.

South of Roye we repulsed an attack on one of our trenches in the wood of Loges. In the region of Verdun there was no event of importance during the night, with the exception of a violent bombardment in the vicinity of Dead Man hill.

Elsewhere on the front the night passed quietly.

The official communication issued tonight reads: In the Argonne, at Laflille Motre, we exploded two mines which destroyed a German trench.

In the region of Verdun there was intermittent cannonading in different Belgian communications.

After a period of calm, the artillery action was renewed with great activity in the region of Dixmude.

MORE HUMAN TORCHES

ARRESTED IN BOSTON

Boston, May 14.—Six more arrests were made today in connection with the investigation of the so-called arson trust. Twelve indictments were returned yesterday by the grand jury which has been looking into the circumstances surrounding a long list of fires of suspicious origin and as a result the police took six men and women into custody last night. Several others are awaiting trial on similar charges.

The district attorney's office announced that its inquiry covered the conflagration which wiped out a large part of the city of Salem three years ago, the suffocation of two small children in a tenement house fire in Boston recently, and many small fires in which the loss was relatively insignificant.
